GUILFORD WOULD CHANGE EAST ROAD

WANT IT TO PASS THROUGH ARKOE

NOW GOES TO RAVENWOOD

Would Make Ideal "Farm-to-Market" Road, Says Washington Township Residents.

Guilford and Washington township are making an effort to change the highway from Maryville to the east line of the county. Under the new hard surfaced road law, this highway is described as going from Maryville to Ravenwood, and from Ravenwood to a point on the county line just east of Old Conception. The road between the towns are yet to be selected by the state highway commission.

The east road formerly selected by the state highway commission was from Maryville to Arkoe, then east to Old Conception to the county line. The Guilford and Washington township residents are very much in favor of this highway. The following is taken from this week's issue of the Guilford Times:

"Guilford and Washington township should fight and never quit fighting to keep the state road leading from Maryville to Albany where it now is, which route would lead through Arkoe to Old Conception. A determined effort is being made to change this route to go straight east of Maryville to Ravenwood and then south to Old Conception. The route through Arkoe would give us a northwest route to Maryville by using the road along the Great Western north and then on the west side of the Platte Valley. It is the logical route and should not be changed. It would give Guilford a route to Maryville with very few hills, being mostly in second bottom land.

"An improved road leading east from Guilford would afford a good road both to King City and Stanberry, and can be worked out easily. These roads conform to the "from farm to market" idea. This part of Nodaway County, too long neglected, is now determined to have it's share of attention. Those in authority at Maryville would do well to remember that each failure to recognize our needs and rights only increases St. Joseph and Savannah trade territory. Give us, as nearly as may be, one of the county improved roads, then improve our own township road and we shall be in pretty fair shape. Andrew County is going to build through Rea and Whitesville and that, with the good road we have in Grant Township on the west side of Platte river, is going to make it "fine and dandy" to get to the St. Joseph market with trucks. It is fortunate for Guilford that Andrew county is going to build so near to us.

"The thing to do is to fight and never quit fighting for that Arkoe and Old Conception route. It means an outlet for the north part of this township and the Whitesville and Rea road will take care of the west and south part of the township. Another road, that needs to be worked out is a connecting link along the Great Western, connecting Guilford and Conception Junction directly. Jefferson township is working on this It would be a fine road. Keep after it gentlemen. You are doing a good work. Supposing that we did not now have the road leading north. We could not do without it. The same thing will be found true of all these other prospositions. Let every citizen back up the township board. They are working for you, are wide awake, energetic, with a desire to put us on the map."

BRINGS SUIT FOR SUPPORT OF THEIR CHILDREN

Fannie Dowis Peterson is Suing Ed Dowis for $18,500 for Twelve Years Care of Their Children.

Fannie Dowis Peterson brought suit against Ed Dowis in the circuit clerk's office this morning for an account of $18,500 for the care and support of their two children for twelve years. The petition states they were divorced in Worth County in April, 1909, and the care and custody of two minor children—years old—was given to the plaintiff. The petition alleges for twelve years the defendant has failed and neglected to support his children and that $1,500 a year is a reasonable amount for their care and support.

Other suits filed today were:

DOCTOR'S OFFICE ENTERED 2D TIME

DIAMOND RING IS STOLEN FROM MISS BESSIE GRAHAM

DISTURBED IN SEARCH

Assistant Returns to Office While Thief is at Work—Another Ring Reported Missing.

After being robbed of 100 tablets of morphine and the same quantity of cocaine Tuesday noon, the office of Dr. H. S. Dowell was again entered yesterday and a diamond ring belonging to Miss Bessie Graham and valued at $100 was taken.

The second robbery was committed during the supper hour. Miss Graham, who is Dr. Dowell's assistant, locked the three doors to the offices about 6:15 o'clock and went to supper. When she returned a few minutes later and inserted her key in the lock of the door, another key was forced in from the other side and the robber pressed his knee against the door.

Miss Graham ran downstairs and telephoned to the home of James Cook, a neighbor of Dr. Dowell. She did not phone the doctor directly as his home and office phones are connected and she did not want the one in the office to ring. Sheriff Steve Roach came to the office immediately, but it was empty, with a door to one of the rear rooms unlocked. The only exit was by the front stairway, which had been left unwatched.

The diamond ring which the thief secured had been left in a drawer of Dr. Dowell's treatment stand. Another less valuable ring left there by Miss Graham was not disturbed. She had put them there while working with chemicals which would have corroded them.

Dr. Dowell believes the two robberies can be traced to local amateurs acquainted with the interior of his office. The stolen ring was taken from the same room where the narcotics taken the preceding day during the noon hour had been kept, and he believes the intruder of the first day may have made a return trip after more of the drugs. Miss Graham was evidently closely watched and entrance effected immediately after she left the office.

Dr. Dowell yesterday reported the theft of the narcotics to federal authorities in Kansas City. The drugs are sold on prescription, and physicians are required to keep a careful record of their dispensation. The tablets were actually worth only about $15, according to Dr. Dowell, but to a drug user unable to obtain a prescription their value would be many times greater.

Mrs. Ben Schafer reported to Mayor Robinson this morning that a ring had also been stolen from her home, 1304 East Cooper street yesterday afternoon. A young woman posing as a buyer of old furniture, she said, called at the house about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, secured two walnut picture frames for which she promised to pay today, and while Mrs. Schafer was out of the room took her gold wedding ring from a glass on the sideboard. Another ring in the same glass was hidden by some spoons and was not taken, Mrs. Schafer said.

The young woman was described as very small and slender, apparently not more than 17 years old. She wore a white skirt, tan sweater trimmed in yellow and white sailor hat.

Lawrence O0gden returned last night from Kansas City where he had been for several days on business.

OFFICIAL INQUIRY STARTS IN ENGLAND

EXPERTS AT LOSS FOR CAUSE OF ZR-2 DISASTER.

ONE AMERICAN SAVED

Strong Tide and Shifting Sand Make Recovery of Bodies Doubtful—Will Build Again.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The navy department today decided not to hold an official inquiry into the explosion of ZR-2 as the airship was under British jurisdiction. It is conceded that England will stand the two million dollar loss as America doesn't make a practice of paying for airships until a final trial flight is successful.

Far from being discouraged by the disaster, naval aviation officials immediately prepared to seek authority for construction of a new ship of the ZR-2 type in the United States.

"We will carry on—build and operate as many ZR-2s as may be authorized by congress," Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronauties, said last night, "so that these brave men may not have lost their lives in vain."

Other aviation officers, while greatly distressed, declared they had not lost faith in rigid airships. They pointed out that Germany had built and successfully operated 140 ships of similar design, many of only silghtly less carrying capacity, while English constructors had turned out sixteen.

Hull, England, Aug. 25.—An official inquiry was started today to fix the responsibility for the losst of the world's greatest dirigible, ZR-2, which lies a mass of charred wreckage in the Humber River.

The disaster, which is the most appalling in the history of peace time aeronautics, was almost instantaneous. The breaking of girders and two explosions, which broke the back of the giant craft and sent her crashing to the ground within five seconds, caused the loss of forty-three lives.

Search of the Humber River is under way today for the bodies of the seventeen Americans aboard. Norman Walker of Commerce, Texas, is the only American survivor.

General Brook Popham, director of staff of the British air ministry, accompanied by his staff, arrived today to institute a board of inquiry.

The giant aircraft was entirely in the hands of the British when the catastrophe came. Commander Maxfield of the United States Navy, who lies dead in the morgue here today, was only a watcher on the craft.

Divers who inspected the submerged wreckage of the dirigible reported the tide was so strong and sand shifting so rapidly over the body of the lost craft that it is improbable any more bodies will ever be recovered. Thirty-eight bodies are sleeping in a watery grave. The city is in deep mourning with all flags at half mast.

Official dispatches did not contain any information upon which experts could base an opinion as to the cause of the disaster. The opinion was expressed, however, that the theory of an explosion of hydrogen gas in one or more of the fourteen compartments might be dismissed at once. Construction of these sections, and the other precautionary measures taken in designing the actual containers of the gas, it was said, rendered this possibility very remote.

The theory most generally expressed was that a structural weakness developed, similar to that reported officially by American observers under date of July 18, rupturing the envelopes so as to bring the hot gases of the engine exhaust into contact with the hydrogen, or that a buckling of structural braces might have punctured the fuel containers, permitting the escaping gasoline to come into contact with the exhaust lines.

Another possible cause of the accident, but considered remote, involved a buckling of structural braces over or near one of the six "power-eggs" which carried the 350-horsepower engines.

Reply to Llyod George Rejects British Premier's Peace Offer, it is Understood.

Dublin, Aug. 25.—The Sinn Fein reply to the English peace offer it is understood, will be a rejection of the terms offered. The reply was taken to London today for delivery.

London, Aug. 25.—The Sinn Fein reply to the English peace proposal was received by Premier Lloyd George late this afteronon.

Dublin, Aug. 25.—A general order calling upon all Sinn Fein soldiers to hold themselves in readiness for active service in the field at any moment, was read to all ranks today. "No necessity may arise", said the order, "But it is the duty of defenders of the Irish Republic not to relax vigilance and leave nothing to chance".

SEPARATE PEACE IS SIGNED TODAY

WAR WITH GERMANY IS FORMALLY DECLARED AT END

RATIFICATION EXPECTED

Democratic Leaders Indicate There Will be no Prolonged Fight on Pact.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—The state of war between the United States and Germany, which has been in effect since April 6, 1917, was formally ended late this afternoon when treaty of separate peace was signed. Ellis Loring Dresel, American commissioner, signed for the United States and Dr. Kon Rosen, the German foreign secretary for Germany.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—The new treaty with Germany was laid before members of the senate for eign relation committee yesterday, and was received by them with some expression of uncertainty but with a general show of approval.

A first impression of approval was voiced by republican and democratic committeemen alike, and, although final decisions were reserved, there appeared little prospect tonight that the treaty would lead to a long or bitter fight when it is submitted formally for ratification. Its submission is expected as soon as the senate reassembles a month hence after the congressional recess.

Among the first to express a favorable opinion from the democratic side was Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, who, as senior democratic member of the committee, led the fight for ratification of the Versailles treaty. Declaring he had received a "very favorable" impression of the newly negotiated pact. Mr. Hitchcock said he saw no reason why it should not be ratified promptly. Similar views were expressed privately by other democrats, although none would talk for publication.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT FARMER PICNIC

KIEL SPEAKS ON LIVE STOCK MARKETING.

LECTURES FOR WOMEN

Miss Kathryn Roderick Will Speak on Cooking and Meal Planning Tomorrow.

The farmers' picnic opened at noon today when between three and four hundred persons ate a basket dinner at the Tourists Park. Shortly after noon the Maryville Concert Band of nineteen pieces began a concert, which lasted until 1:30 o'clock.

In addition to the basket dinner, the Seth Ray David ost of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is operating a stand.

The speaking this afternoon began shortly before 2 o'clock. The first speaker of the afternoon, Henry Kiel of St. Joseph, was introduced by Frank Miller of Hopkins. In opening his address Mr. Kiel said that he was a hired man and that the farmers of this district were his bosses. His address was on the live stock question.

In speaking of the farmers of Nodaway county, he said that their harmony was admirable. Hearty cooperation between all of the farmers of the county is the keynote of the success that has been achieved, he declared.

In defining the Farmers Union, he said that it was organized for the purpose of handling the stock for the farmers, by the farmers and for the purpose of cutting down commissions. Mr. Kiel demonstrated how the commission men of St. Joseph are making 60 per cent on the stock they handle, while the Farmers Union of Livestock was making only 20 per cent.

He said, "We won't sell to speculators if they bid their heads off. It is our purpose to cut out the middle man and the speculator."

In arguing for a more perfect organization of the farmers he said, "There are only two classes of people who are not organized. They are the farmers and the insane."

Howard A. Cowden of the Missouri Farm Clubs next spoke on "Farm Club Activities."

There were about 500 people at the meeting this afternoon and there were over 200 cars parked near the Tourists ark. According to R. A. Kinnaird, a much larger crowd is expected tomorrow.

Miss Kathryn Roderick of the agricultural extension service of the University of Missouri gave a lecture and demonstration on subjects of food and clothing this afternoon. Tomorrow she will give demonstrations on the pressure cooker, showing the advantages of that type of cooker over the other methods. She will point out good and bad points in the cooker, cooking meat or potatoes to demonstrate its use.

Miss Roderick will also talk on meal palnning for the family. She has literature which she will distribue among the women, giving examples of good and bad meals, and why they are good or bad. After her lecture, the women will be given a chance to ask any question they wish.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning the farmers will inspect the crops on the College experiment field, showing the results of ten years work with fertilizers and different varieties of crops. At noon there will be another basket dinner and band concert.

P. E. Donnell, director of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., and Dr. H. J. Waters, editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star, will be the speakers on the afternoon program.

At 3 o'colck the Farmers' Union baseball team will play the winner of the game today between the Farm Bureau and Farm Club teams.

EPIDEMIC OF TREE EATING CATERPILLARS IS REPORTED

Kansas City Also Suffers From Invasion of White Marked Tussock Moth.

One of the worst epidemics of tree eating caterpillars Kansas City ever has experienced is bringing distress calls from home owners to John S. Bryant, city forester, says the Kansas City Star. The same condition exists in Maryville, where R. A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, has identified a caterpillar found on trees here as the larva of the white marked tussock moth.

How do there happen to be so many worms this year; where do they come from and what can we do to get rid of them? are questions asked every day.

There happen to me so many, Mr. Bryant says, because there were comparatively few driving rains here this year to wash them out of the trees. If it hadn't been for the few hard rains which did come, Mr. Bryant vows he doesn't know where the worms would have found trees enough to supply one day's meals.

Where they come from and how to get rid of them really can be answered at once. The web worm, the most common and hungry type, comes from eggs laid in forks of twigs by a butterfly in the spring. The butterfly comes from an ambitious web worm which finishes a hearty dinner of leaves about this time of year and turns back to the ground.

He weaves himself a winter overcoat out of the silky, sticky thread he makes himself and parks himself under the front porch or on the warm side of some debris. In the spring he becomes a butterfly which has a family of from five hundred to twelve hundred ambitious little worms in a few weeks.

The scientific way to get him is to remove all debris in which the worm is hunting a place right now, Mr. Bryant says. The ones still in the trees may be killed by solution of arsenate of lead and sulphate in water, sprayed on the trees. Druggists will give directions for mixing.

Much good can be done in the spring by removing at once any twig on which a small web appears. It shows the presence of the first few web worms, weaving the web which prevents their being washed or blown from the tree. Fourteen hundred or so brothers and sisters will be arriving in that branch of the family tree presently unless the twig is burned. The butterfly lays her eggs close together.

The smaller caterpillar which arrives early in the spring is not so troublesome, Mr. Bryant says. A receipt for getting him:

Fasten a quart tin can to a long pole. Put several nail holes in the bottom of the can. Fill it with rags and soak the rags with coal oil, adding some powdered sulphur. Ignite. Use the apparatus as a smudge to burn the worms out.

Bag worms, which already are wrapping themselves in leaves on trees in preparation for winter, are best combated by painstakingly "picking" each cocoon from the bare trees in winter. They don't mind spraying after they have pulled their heads under the covers and gone to sleep for the season, Mr. Bryant says. Another method which prevents propagation is putting sticky substances on the tree trunks in the spring. The female bag worm moth can't fly and she is caught while climbing trees in the egg laying season.

Samson Equipment at New Prices

Samson Power Farming Equipment is enabling thousands of farmers to successfully meet present conditions. At the New Prices, coupled with our Special Terms, Samson Equipment and Samson Economies are easily within your reach.

Lower Costs Mean Greater Profits

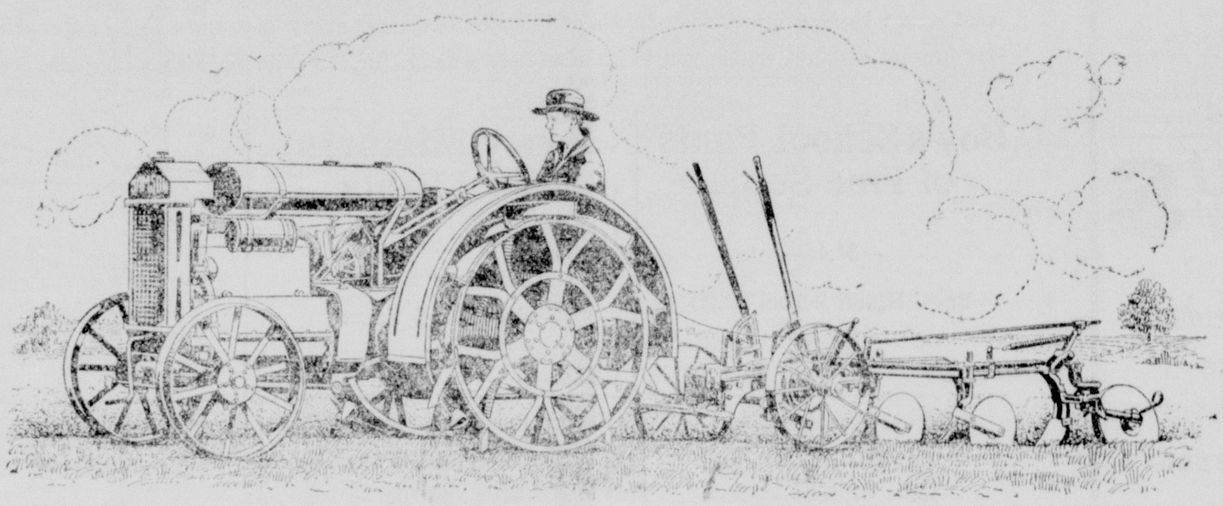
No one can foretell the future trend of prices for farm produce but that farmer will profit most who is reducing the costs of raising and handling his crops to the minimum.

The profits of the future must come through greater efficiency. Lower costs mean greater profits.

Right now you are confronted with the same kind of problem that your father decided when he discarded the scythe for the mower and reaper. It is the problem of more and better work in less time and at a lower cost—it is the problem of making and saving the crop irrespective of seasonal variations—the problem of realizing a profit even under the most trying conditions.

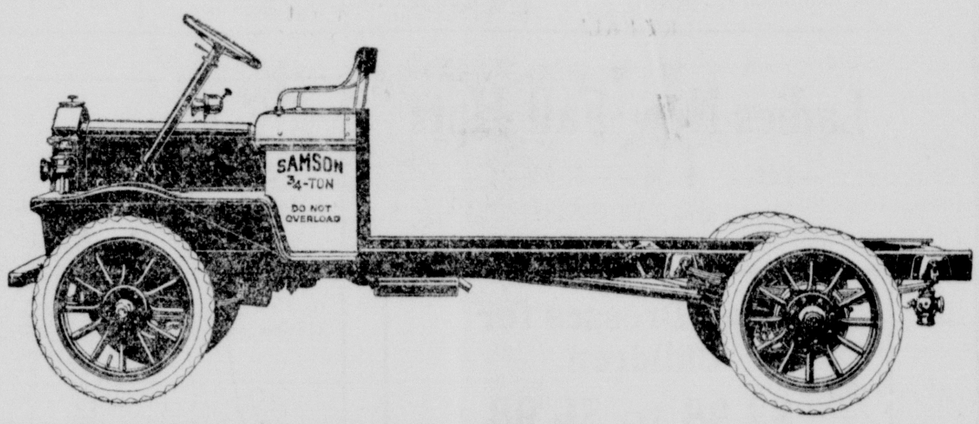
Thousands of farmers are solving their problems and insuring their profits through the use of Samson Power Farming Equipment. They are lowering their costs by growing better and larger crops; they are saving time and lessening labor; they are improving their crops by getting the work done at exactly the proper season.

What Samson Equipment is doing for others it will do for you. At these new prices coupled with our special terms you have an opportunity to reduce your costs and insure your profits even under the most unfavorable market conditions.



There are similar reductions on the entire Samson line, including Plows, Harrows, Cultivators, Planters, Listers and Weeders. See us for new price list and full information.

These special prices are subject to change without notice.



Let us prove just what Samson Equipment will do right on your own farm. Let us convince you by doing your own work right under your own conditions.

See us for Samson Terms, which are based on an intimate understanding of the present agricultural situation. We have a special easy-payment plan which fits your present conditions.

Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, who got enough notoriety out of her trial in connection with the death of Jake Hamon, the millionaire politician and oil magnate, to make her a movie star has married her manager. He discovered in the development of her work that she is "a wonderful women" and she very naturally found that he was a "wonderful man." This being the case it may be hoped that the incident is amicably and permanently closed.

No Jack Rabbit this Time

Howard Albright is about the happriest boy in the country, having a jack colt that gives promise of making a prize winner. It is only a week old but its ears measure 22 3-4 inches long and stands 33 1-2 inches high and is extra heavy boned, having all the marks of a real jack, being a better colt than nine-tenths of the jack colts in sections where prize mules are produced. —Hopkins Journal.

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. S. L. Davidson of Barnard, and a sister, Mrs. Dave Gage of Hildreth, Neb.

CLYDE RESIDENTS WILL GO TO ENGLAND AND GERMANY

Mrs. Dorothea Rehberg and Brother, Charles Patzer, Apply for Passports.

Mrs. Dorothea Rehberg and her brother, Charles Patzer, of Clyde, applied to Circuit Clerk Henry Westfall today for passports to visit England and Germany. The application was sent to Washington, where the permits must be issued by President Harding. It will be about three weeks before permission is granted. Mrs. Rehberg and Mr. Patzer will then make their plans for sailing.

Mrs. Rehberg was born in Eisleben, Prussia. She came to Clyde in 1872, forty-nine years ago. She will visit a brother in London and will also visit relatives in Germany.

Mrs. Rehberg has made three trips to England and Germany, but has not been there since the beginning of the World War in 1914. In 1913, she was ready to make another visit, when the depot at Conception Junction was burned and her trunks, containing much valuable clothing and jewelry intended for presents for relatives in Germany and England, were destroyed.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Prohibition may have kept father away from the mahagony bar, the brass rail and the sawdust floor, but it has not resulted in any appreciable improvement in his domestic relations.

Mr. Volstead, with his pet legislation, has not had the effect of decreasing the number of divorce cases in Chicago, according to Judge Joseph Sabath, of the Cook County Superior Court.

Judge Sabath reported disposing of 2,000 cases in the last ten months. He then laid down a series of admonitions to wives, husbands and sweethearts.

His "way-to-happy-marriage" suggestions follow:

Every man should see that his wife has plenty of entertainment take her to the movies, on auto rides and to the theatres as often as you can afford. Go swimming with her if she likes it.

A husband should confide his business affairs to his wife and she should take an interest in them.

Have children.

Know each other well before marriage.

Realize the responsibility of the marriage relation; bear and forbear

Move away from each other's families; don't live with them.

Judge Sabath advocates the publishing, thirty days before a license is issued, of the names of those desiring to marry.

In the cases disposed of before Judge Sabath 1,456 filed by women and 544 by men.

TO RAISE MORE 200-EGG HENS

Missouri Now Has 1,000 Cockerels From 200-EGG Stock

Poultry keepers who are striving to build up the laying ability of their flocks are naturally eager to secure males that will transmit the high production characters to their pullets. On accoun of the shortage of pedigreed males from hens with reliable year-around trap nest records, demonstration farm flock owners are particularly interested in the certified breeding males which will be available this fall.

Sixty-five Missouri farm flock owners who are primarily interested in breeding better layers have cooperated with the Agricultural Extension Service of the Missouri College of Agriculture during the past year in their breeding operations and now have been selected and certified by a representative of the College.

On each farm where certified breeding has been carried on, the breeding hens were selected by a specialist and banded last fall. These were mated to a cockerel secured from a reliable breeder who furnished a pedigree showing that the male was the son of a hen that had laid more than 200 eggs in a year by trap nest record. On such farms no stock was raised except from this selected breeding pen, and the cockrels produced from this mating were examined during July by a poultry specialist from the College of Agriculture and those cockerels which are outstanding individuals have been legbanded to show that they have been certified as high class breeders.

The certified breeding cockerels are not only bred for high-producing traits, but they have also been very carefully selected on the basis of physical development. They are free from standard disqualifications and are healthy, vigorous and early maturing.

Nearly 1,000 of these cockerels have been banded by the poultry specialists, and are available at reasonable prices to persons who are interested in securing males that have high laying ancestry back of them. Further information with regard to these certified breeding males can be secured by writing to your county agricultural agent or by addressing the Poultry Specialist, Missouri College of Agriculture at Columbia.

JAPAN CROWDING IN ON HER NEW PACIFIC ISLANDS

A Writer in Scribner's Says A New World Problem is Presented by Japan.

North of the equator things are for the most part as they were. That is to say America is still in possession of the great Asiatic group of the Philippines, waiting like England in India, for the day when she may leave it to its own people. Can she ever do so? The United States possesses as before a string of steppingstones to the East—Hawaii, Guam, the Philippines. But she is now irrevocably an Asiatic power. The menace to her social structure in the Pacific States compels her, whether she likes or not, to keep her sword in the side of Asia and Manila. Even if the Filipinos were ready for her departure she must stay, for until the quarrel with the East is decided she can best defend herself, as England always did, on the coasts of her enemy.

Yet another difficulty arises from the Treaty of Versailles. Germany was never the enemy of United States But today Germany's possessions at Caroline, Marshall, Pelew and Marianne, encircling Guam, are in the hands of Japan. The League of Nations does not grant sovereignty, nor does it permit the mandatory power to fortify. But it cannot forbid the people intrusted with a mandate from flooding the territory with its own nationals—its administrators, engineers artisans, and laborers. Obviously Japan alone of the mandatory powers is able to do this, for only the Japanese can labor in such conditions. Today we are told that the Japanization of the islands north of the equator is proceeding actively; that Japanese workers are flooding the groups, Japanese goods are being dumped everywhere, and the Japanese tongue is being promoted, as French and German were elsewhere, by compelling its use in the mission schools. The Japanese can fill up with their own flesh and blood the vacancies left by the disappearing populations of the Pacific; we never can. Thus irresistibly the frontiers of Japan, which yesterday were safe in Asia have been pushed forward three or four thousand miles across New Zealand.

From "The New Pacific," by Guy H. Scholefield in the September Sribner's.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS

How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toomsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache all the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was deficient and irregular periods. I read in the papers what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. F. PHILLIPS, Toomsboro, Ga.

Weak, nervous women make unhappy homes, their condition irritates both husband and children. It has been said that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, "the blues," irritability and backache arise from some displacement or derangement of a woman's system. Mrs. Phillips' letter clearly shows that no other remedy is so successful in overcoming this condition as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FIGHTING AGAIN BREAKS OUT AMONG COAL MINERS

Washington, Aug. 25.—President Harding is considering rushing troops into West Virginia to quell impending coal field riots. Governor Morgan wired the president that armed bands were forming throughout the state and that armed insurrection threatens.

Legand, Aug. 25.—An armed band of miners estimated at 4,000 is moving toward Mingo County, reports here said. A force of miners which has been camped at Marmet has already crossed Boone County. Great excitement prevails. Five hundred men have answered the plea of the sheriff to aid in repelling the invasion of Logan County.
